

Symposium: New Directions in Study of the Roma Genocide

Day 1 : May 10th 2023

9:30-10:00:

Welcome & coffee

10:00-11:30

Panel 1, Microhistory (1)

Chair: Celia Donert

Grégoire Cousin: ‘The fate of the Roma deported to Suha-Balca farm: writing a collective history of the victims’

Anna Míšková: ‘The Return Unwanted’, the story of one family against the background of Nazi persecution in the protectorate of Bohemia and Moravia’

Paula Simon: ‘A mosaic of sources: Writing a microhistory of the Samudaripen in Niš, Serbia’

11:30-11:45

Coffee & tea

11:45-13:15

Panel 2, Microhistory (2)

Chair: Barbara Warnock

Petre Matei: ‘Roma women’s petitions to rescue their deported families: A case study from Romania’

Michala Lônčíková: ‘Detention Camp for Gypsies’ in Dubnica nad Váhom in the Romani testimonies from the compensation files of Slovakia’

Laura Stoebener: ‘Thirteen Dossiers: Survivors of the genocide of Roma in Belgium’

13:15-14:15

Lunch

14:15-16:15

Panel 3, Testimonies as objects of analysis

Chair: Clara Dijkstra

Aleksandra Szczepan: 'Negotiating testimonial agency: Nowa Huta Roma in Holocaust archives'

Eva Sammadar: 'Embodying suffering of Roma in Serbia between 1941 and 1944 through arts and oral testimonies'

Helena Sadílková and Lada Viková: 'Experiences difficult to communicate': Post-war testimonies by Jan Ištvan, a Romani Holocaust survivor, and the history of his family in the Czech lands'

Maria Bogdan: 'Self-Representation: Survivor interviews as trauma texts and as part of the deconstructive shift of the Romani movements'

16:15-16:45

Coffee & tea

16:45-17:45

Roundtable on education and memory

Chair: Barbara Warnock

Further details to follow

18:30-19:45

Keynote lecture by Ari Joskowicz: 'Roma, Jews and the Holocaust'

Chair: Celia Donert

20:00

Conference dinner

Day 2: May 11th 2023

9:00-9:30

Arrive & coffee

9:30-10:30

Keynote lecture by Volha Bartash: 'On agency and resistance, Roma in the Soviet partisan movement'

Chair: Barbara Warnock

10:30-10:45

Coffee & tea

10:45-12:45

Panel 4, Commemoration and transitional justice

Chair: Ian Rich

Maëlle Lepitre: 'Remembering the Roma genocide: The case of the Buchenwald memorial after 1989/1990'

Renata Berkyová: 'Searching for ways to remember the Holocaust of Czech Roma and Sinti in the 1960s and Early 1970s'

Lara Raabe: 'Between bureaucracy and agency: Romani voices in West Berlin restitution proceedings'

Verena Meier: 'New perpetrator research and voices of the oppressed: The NS genocide against Sinti and Roma in Magdeburg and Transitional Justice after 1945'

12:45-13:45

Lunch

13:45-14:45

Panel, 5 State perspectives and perpetration

Chair: Barbara Warnock

Alexander Korb: 'Genozide ante Portas? Bavarian anti-traveler legislation and practice in the 1920s'

László Csósz: 'Anti-Roma violence in Hungary during the last months of World War II'

14:45-15:45

Panel 6, Roma children and the Holocaust

Chair: Toby Simpson

Aisling Shalvey: 'Identification of victims and uncovering injustice in the Noma experiment on Roma children at Auschwitz'

Justyna Matkowska: 'Roma orphans in the southeastern area of occupied Poland during WWII'

15:45-16:00

Coffee & tea

16:00-17:00

Final roundtable: New directions in the study of the Roma genocide

Chair: Christine Schmidt

Karola Fings, Ari Joskowicz, Volha Bartash

17:00

Concluding remarks & end

This symposium is generously supported by the Fondation pour la Mémoire de la Shoah, the George Macaulay Trevelyan Fund through the Faculty of History at the University of Cambridge, and the Past & Present Society.

